DUBLIN, May 4.

ON Monday laſt the 29th of April, His Grace the Lord Lieutenant went to the Parliament-Houſe with the uſual Solemnity, and gave the Royal Aſſent to all the Publick and Private Bills: After which he was pleaſed to make the following Speech.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

NOTHING can give me more Satisfaction than to ſee this happy Concluſion of a Seſſion of Parliament which has given ſo many Inſtances of Affection, and Duty to His Majeſty's Sacred Perſon and Government.

His Majeſty's Paternal Care, and tender Concern for the Safety and Happineſs of his People, His ſteady and unwearied Application to protect the Proteſtant Religion, to preſerve the Balance of Power, and to reſtore the Peace of Europe, have juſtly gained Him the entire Confidence of all His Subjects; and muſt procure Him all poſſible Returns of Duty and Gratitude.

Though this Seſſion hath been neceſſarily carried to an unexpected Length, by the Difficulties You have met with in giving an adequate and ſeaſonable Relief to many, who muſt have greatly ſuffered without Your Interpoſition, and whom Publick Credit had rendered proper Objects of Your Attention: Yet the good Laws which have now received the Royal Aſſent, fully Recompence ſo long an Attendance, and will be laſting Monuments of the Vigilance and Wiſdom of this Parliament.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I am commanded to thank You in His Majeſty's Name, for the Supplies You have granted to Support the Eſtabliſhment, and to diſcharge the Intereſt of the National Debt.

Your Endeavours to make thoſe Supplies effectual, by Laws to prevent the infamous and deſtructive Practices of Defrauding the Crown and Robbing the Publick, are ſtrong and convincing Proofs of Your unalterable Zeal for the Good of Your Country, and His Majeſty's Service.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Upon Your Return into your ſeveral Countries, it will be highly incumbent on you, at a Time when all Europe is in Arms, to preſerve the Peace and Safety of the Kingdom, by promoting a perfect Agreement and firm Union among Proteſtants, and by exerting Yourſelves to prevent, and ſuppreſs all Deſigns againſt His Majeſty's Government.

As I have always had the Intereſt of this Kingdom at Heart, it gives Me a particular Pleaſure to find, that My Adminiſtration is agreeable to You; and I think Myſelf happy, that on My Return to His Majeſty's Royal Preſence I can juſtly repreſent His People of Ireland, as moſt dutiful, loyal, and affectionate Subjects.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Grace's Command, ſaid,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is His Grace the Lord Lieutenant's Pleaſure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Tueſday the Fourth Day of June, to be then here held: And this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to the Fourth Day of June next.

Laſt Tueſday in the Evening one Mrs. Smith, a School-Miſtreſs, went to ſee a young Woman in Mr. Alexander's Houſe in Cook-Street, and asked for a Drink of Small-beer. Hague, April 20. The Northern Powers do not know what to think of the Dilatoriness of France in relieving Dantzick. If the Measures taken by the French Ministry to save that Town, should miscarry with King Stanislaus, it will cast an indelible Reproach upon the French Nation.

Extract of a Letter from the Recorder of Savannah in Georgia, to the Honourable James Oglethorpe, Esq;

S I R,

I HAD the Honour to write to you by our Messenger, giving you an account of our Court Proceedings; since which I am to inform you of an Accusation, brought by Captain Skee and Istiche his Lieutenant, Indians, complaining that one Job Wiggin, who worked at Musgrove's Cowpen, had taken into his Hut, at the said Cowpen, the Wife of one of their Indians named Destatige; that he gave her a Blanket, and she laid with him in the said Hut.

We treated the Indians with Civility, and immediately promised 'em Justice, and that the Man should be sent for, brought up here, and punish'd severely; Upon which they expressed themselves contented and went away, seemingly well satisfied. We accordingly on the spot, without any Loss of Time, dispatched a Warrant by Jones who was then going down, and brought the Fellow up here, and put him in the Log-house. We gave notice to Skee and Istiche of it, who came to see and accuse him: Whereupon we immediately sat in Court, sent for Justice Musgrove's Indian Servant, and Francis to interpret, and examined the Fellow before the said Skee and Istiche and another Indian named Talihomme: a great many People being present, and the Constables attending in Order, with their Muskets and Bayonets. Skee and Istiche seemed very cautious of expressing themselves at first; but accused the Fellow of the Fact for that they saw it: They said, they did not insist, that any white Man should be punished for them: but that they were always told, even white Mens Dogs were good, and did not believe any would hurt 'em. The Husband in the mean time had cut off the Ears and Hair of the Woman, stuck them upon a Stick, and brought them to the Store House Door. They told us, that they had taken Satisfaction of the Woman, and if she lived, would take her again amongst them. The Fellow did not deny the taking her into the Hut, and her lying there; but said, he did no harm, and seemed to laugh at it, vainly imagining, (as I presume) that the proving the actual Fact of Adultery would be required. We severely reprimanded him thereupon, and immediately caus'd a pair of Irons to be put upon his Hands before the Indians, and at the same time gave necessary Admonitions to all People then present against such Crimes, and shewed them the Consequence thereof, in the strongest Speeches we were capable of. We told the Indians, that it was a Crime, that in our Laws required the severest Punishment, and that we our selves must punish him.

Upon the Irons being put on, and the Indians seeing our just Resentment of the Crime, spoke then more freely, and said that the giving her a Blanket, and taking her into his Hut and sleeping there with him, was taken for Adultery amongst them; and that, up in the Country, for that Crime they cut the Throats of them that did it: That they should be glad to see him well whip'd. We promised that they should be present and see him punished. We gave the Indians Encouragement, upon any grievance, to come always and complain and speek freely; that they should have their Wrongs immediately redressed, and the Aggressor severely punished.

I must not omit telling your Honour, that they said amongst other Things, that when they see him punished, they would believe it: but upon the Hand-cuffs being put on, and the Guard in form carrying him back to Goal, they seemed all well satisfied, and promised to come and see him punished. I don't doubt your Honour will be of Opinion on such an Occasion, (and for an Example to deter others) even to exceed the ordinary Punishments.

As to the Savannah Indians being come down, Mr. Colleton's and his Brother's Arrival and Departure, the going down of the Tybe People, the Arrival of the Happy Man of War, and other Things mentioned in Mr. Causton's Letter, I refer you to him. The News of a Man of War being stationed here, is very agreable to every body, and adds new Life to them. The great Regard of his Majesty, and the Care of the Honourable Gentlemen, the Trustees, for our Preservation, is therein very conspicuous, and we shall endeavour to deserve a Continuance of it. I have only to add, that Mr Delmass was brought to Town in a very weak Condition, being likewise troubled with a Species of a Fistula: I took him into my House, and now he is not only almost cured, but recovers his Strength daily, and will soon be able to return again to Skidoway. I beg leave to subscribe myself.

Your Honour's

Most faithful and obedient

Savannah April the 6th 1734. humble Servant

Tho. Christie.

Extract of a Letter from on Board his Majesty's Sloop the Happy.

Tybe, April the 4th 1734.

'THere is safe coming in for Ships to this Place: Here 'is much less Difficulty, than I expected, having 'Water enough all the Way, never less than a Quarter 'Three, and anchored in two Foot Four at low Water. 'The Men are here about the Beacon; who may have all 'the Assistance lies in my Power, during my stay.

B O S T O N, June 20.

We hear from Groton, in the Colony of Connecticut, That on the first Inst. an Indian there having intoxicated himself with Strong Drink, upon his return home it had such a pernicious Effect, that the unreasonable Creature whip'd a little Boy of his own, in such a barbarous manner that he presently died; after which he took off the Child's Shirt, and wash'd it, and then put the Body in his Bed, and lay by it till the Morning, when he left it and made his Escape. We don't yet hear that he is taken; but diligent Enquiry and Search is made after him.

We hear, That last Tuesday was se'nnight the Thunder and Lightning was very terrible at the East Part of Concord, and that there was the most dreadful Shower of Rain and Hail that was ever known among them: some of the Hail Stones that fell, were near Three Inches in length; and we are credibly inform'd they lay Forty seven Hours on the Ground, in some Places much longer, before they dissolv'd; Vast Damage was done thereby, the Storm rending up and laying waste Trees, Fruits, &c. The Grass that was Eighteen Inches high was beat down, and cover'd Eight Inches with Earth that wash'd over it: The Rain was so violent for near two Hours, that it is tho't there fell thrice the Quantity for the Time, that was ever known there; in one dry hollow Place the Water gather'd into a Body, and ran over a Stone Fence with such Rapidity, that it carry'd off some Stones, as big as a Man could well lift, seven Feet distance from it. The Indian Corn, which before appear'd forward and promising, was much of it beat down, wash'd away, and in a great measure ruin'd: So that the Loss sustain'd was very great. The greatest Violence of this Storm, and Damage done by it, contain'd about Four Miles in length, and One in breadth.

From

From Shrewsbury we hear, That on the 5th Inſt. being Training Day at that Place, One of the Soldiers having his Musket loaded with a hard Wadd on the Charge, in attemtping to fire between the Legs of one Samuel Davenport his Fellow-Soldier, about Twenty-five Years of Age, the Wadd ſtruck his Ancle Bone with ſuch Force, that it was ſhatter'd, and broke quite off; and a Day or two after, the poor Man's Leg was cut off, and it was greatly fear'd he would loſe his Life thereby.

Barnſtable, June 5. This Day was Executed her Maziah Harding (in the 63 Year of his Life,) purſuant to his Sentence of Condemnation, paſſed in the late Aſſizes here (having been bro't in Guilty by a Jury of 12 Men) for Murdering his late Wife, by breaking or diſlocating her Neck.

He never from the time of his Arreſt altogether denied the horrid Fact, nor would he directly own it. On the Day of Condemnation; he owned that awaking out of a great Fright, after ſome time, he went into another Room were his Wife was laid on the Bed, he ſeeing her Head lie at ſome Diſadvantage, attempted to put it up on the Pillow, when he felt a mighty preſſure on both his Wriſts which terrified him to that degree that as ſoon as he could diſengage his Hands he fell down by the ſide of the Bed uttering theſe words, I will not be guilty of innocent Blood, but added that ſhe was (as he judged,) dead before he came nigh her; this was the ſtory he told to the laſt, and declared ſolemnly it was all he could ſay in the Caſe, that if he was the Murderer he was not ſenſible of it, nor clear in his own mind about it. He ſeemed to have ſome Humiliations, and owned that the Lord was Righteous in all his ways towards him, and that he was merciful to him in not ſuffering him to deſtroy himſelf by a ſtab with his Knife into his Stomach when he was arreſted in order to his Impriſonment for the Crime; when he was urged at the place of Execution to ſay ſomething to the Circle of a great Throng of Spectators about him, he would ſay nothing but this, I think I do not deſerve this from MAN, and with theſe words he went off into an unknown Eternity.

On Monday laſt a Man belonging to the Maſt-Ship that lies in the Pool, was loſt by an unhappy Accident, as he was doing ſomething aloft he fell overboard, and coming a croſs the Muzzel of one of the Great Guns he was ſo diſabled that he ſunk before any means could be uſed to preſerve him: He was taken up in about half an Hour after, and it appeared that his Thigh was broke, and that he received ſuch other hurt in his Fall, which, if he had eſcaped the Water, it's thought, would have proved fatal to him. That which makes the Accident the more ſorrowful is, that his Mother (to whom he was very Dutiful) being a Poor Widow, had her chief dependance upon his gains, under GOD, for her Support.
